MySafeWorkplace® Set to Unveil Enhanced Case Management Functionality

(Littleton, CO) October 8, 2008 - Business Controls, Inc., a firm that helps organizations mitigate risks related to employee misconduct, is set to unveil an enhanced version of their whistleblower hotline, MySafeWorkplace® (MSW).

The new version, MySafeWorkplacePlus, will offer improved Case Management functionality, more investigative management features, tools for executive reporting, and enhanced graphical and analytical reporting.

“Many of our clients have been interested in facilitating better communication with executives on certain high profile incidents” said Fred Hessler, Director of Business Development. “MySafeWorkplacePlus allows clients to quickly summarize allegations and report on the current status of on-going investigations. Busy executives can now grasp the essence of an allegation without having to navigate an entire written report.”

In 1999 Business Controls, Inc. created MySafeWorkplace® to serve as a central repository for issues within an organization and to give employees a safe way to bring concerns to management. The system enables compliance with numerous governmental regulations and is globally accessible 24/7/365 by both the Internet and toll free numbers.

Client involvement has been instrumental in the development of MSWPlus. “One of the things we are most pleased about is the degree of client involvement in determining requirements of this initial release,” Hessler added. “Their insight has been invaluable, and we plan to rely on that insight as we continue to broaden the product.”

A beta version has already been released to one large client for testing purposes. The production release is set for late October.
